

Crothead
Mosquito Coil Holder - Aussie
 Made FNQ Blue Steel

$6.90

Details

We've all been there... broken bits of mozzie coil, or frustrating holders that don't do the job the way we want! Crothead has come to the rescue with the Mosquito Coil Holder. Such a simple design yet so effective, these Waratah Long Life Blue Steel coil holders can be placed anywhere on a full coil. No worries over wasting those little broken bits either, just secure the piece between the two nippers at the top of the holder and it'll burn down to ash. Whether in your backyard, at the campsite or while you're picnicking with mates, there are no restrictions with how you position the holder with this nifty design allowing a choice of options - standing, lying or hanging. Just make sure there's nothing or no one at risk of getting burnt from the hot coil tip.

Aussie made using FNQ Blue Steel and Aussie owned, the Mosquito Coil Holder from Crothead is the perfect accessory for deterring those pesky Aussie blood-suckers, and to support Aussie industries and jobs.
